FINI COMPRESSORS - compressed air since 1952

Our range of "ADVANCED" belt-driven compressors is designed for artisans and small/medium-sized industries, where the quality of air, durability and efficiency are essential requirements for daily use. With the large displacement of the pumping units, the low rpm value, sturdiness of the set-up, lack of vibrations, this is one of the flagship lines of the whole Fini's piston range ...

It is a Fini-Biscout MK200-1.5M dual tank compressor runs on 120V which I purchased new about 20 years ago. Compressor has been used very very little but it had always worked well even running framing nailers. It builds up to normal operating pressure as it always did and shuts off at correct pressure. However when using it unloads air at normal pressure but quickly pressure drops to where the ...
